

“WHEN ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!”

PSALM 13:1 – *How long wilt thou forget me, O Lord?
For ever? How long wilt thou hide thy face from me?*

Donald Trump once said, “Part of being a winner is knowing when enough is enough. Sometimes you have to give up the fight and walk away, and move on to something that’s more productive.”

This might be the one time I can honestly say I agree with Mr. Trump! There will come a time in your life when you’ve taken all you can take; you’ve done all you can do; and you’ve given all you have to give. It is only when you get to the place when enough is enough that you will do or say something in order to bring about a much needed change in your life! Have you had enough yet? – Enough of being broke, busted, and disgusted? Enough of failed dreams and goals? Enough of living life without a real purpose and plan? Enough of going in and out of one bad relationship after another? Enough of doing the same thing exactly the same way and expecting a different result? Enough of living your life without Christ and seemingly always being defeated by the enemy? Enough of having more month at the end of your money? Enough of making one step forward and being pushed two steps backwards? The bible says in 2 Corinthians 12:9 “And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness.” Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.”

Have you ever found yourself in the valley so long that you felt that God forgot about you? That He could no longer see or hear you? Or that He had simply turned His back on you? My friend, that is a very cold and dark place to suddenly wake up and find yourself. As long as you allow other people, places or things to determine your state of happiness and regulate your emotional status, you will always be swayed by your circumstances and your environment. Let me talk to the real Saints! Can you still have joy after all you’ve been through, may be going through right now or will have to go through in the very near future? Even though it feels like you’re out there all by yourself, God promised never to leave you alone. Deuteronomy 31:8 says, “And the LORD, he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed.” Can you trust Him even when you can’t trace Him?

In spite of your feeling like the walls are closing in, the roof is falling in and the floor beneath you is caving in, God will bring you through when you give it all to Him! ‘Cause while you’re trying to figure it out, He’s already worked it out! When you get to the place where enough is enough, before you do or say something you will regret for the rest of your life, have a little talk with Jesus and tell Him all about your trouble. He will hear your faintest cry and answer by and by. Focus on something positive in your life – either in the present or in the future and keep your eyes on the prize! Philippians 3:14 says, “I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.” You have to learn to tune out the depressing voices in your head. You have to learn how to block out the harmful deeds that are being done around you and even to you in order to distract you. And you have to learn how to bind and cancel all the ungodly words that are spoken over your life in Jesus’ name.

When enough is truly enough you will determine that today is the first day of the rest of your life and that your latter will be greater than your past! You must begin to seek divine direction from God and ask Him for a plan to move you from where you are to where He wants you to be! I beg you today, move forward; one step at a time and one day at a time! Encourage yourself in the Lord! God has a plan for your life. 3 John 1:2 says, “Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.” Christ came that you might have life and have it more abundantly! Don’t be hoodwinked, bamboozled or fooled. The Devil is a liar and a deceiver! God is not through blessing you! You control your destiny. You can sit back and let things happen, or you can stand up and begin to make things happen; but only when enough is enough!
